

Example of Senior Systems Integration Job Description

Powered by www.VelvetJobs.com

Our company is looking to fill the role of senior systems integration. If you are looking for an exciting place to work, please take a look at the list of qualifications below.

Responsibilities for senior systems integration

- Perform in-depth analysis of customer issues and business requirements from customers and develop solutions that meet those requirements
- Support productive customers
- Design and develop solutions for road map items as designed/discussed with product owners and product architects
- Ensure quality deliveries of the product code fixes/development/enhancement items
- Be keen to adopt newer cutting edge technology within the organization through knowledge sessions, adoption of the same in the product
- Work with business and technical teams, both on site and off-shore, to create business deliverables such as Process Maps, Business Requirements, Functional Requirements (including Use cases), User Stories and User Acceptance Tests
- Work with business and technical teams to support the development of Technical Requirements
- Participate in workshops with business stakeholders to develop requirements
- Work closely with business, development , project management and quality assurance teams in the overall delivery of solutions
- Ensure quality through adherence to and supporting processes and procedures, including the maintenance of documentation on shared file systems

- 7-10 years of experience in facilitating process change and labor standards in a supply chain environment within either a manufacturing or distribution environment
- Experience with Lean, Six Sigma or other Process Improvement Methodology
- Demonstrated proficiency in project management and process improvement initiatives
- Experience in managing and facilitating change management initiatives across all levels within a distribution center environment
- Ability to lead, influence and manage business partners and large team of associates
- Strong project and process planning skills and budgeting experience