

Example of Software Developer Specialist Job Description

Powered by www.VelvetJobs.com

Our company is searching for experienced candidates for the position of software developer specialist. We appreciate you taking the time to review the list of qualifications and to apply for the position. If you don't fill all of the qualifications, you may still be considered depending on your level of experience.

Responsibilities for software developer specialist

- Analyze and accurately estimate development tasks, seeking clarification and recommending adjustments as necessary
- You will be passionate about application development, programming, statistics, and data visualization
- You get thrilled if you can simplify peoples' lives by automating standard tasks and you get excited when the push of a button yields a result which previously took hours to get
- You can raise the bar with respect to programming, coding standards, version control
- You have worked with a distributed version control system and can help us define our needs and discuss them with IT
- You are familiar with request tools and can support us to establish and sustain such a tool for all statistical requests within the larger team
- You are familiar with the concepts of agile software development
- You take pride in what you do, and how fast you do it
- You enjoy mentoring your team mates in your strengths
- You take personal responsibility for determining what you are going to do to help your team meet its objectives every day and every sprint

Qualifications for software developer specialist

- Relevant project management skills – project status reporting, task delegation, stakeholder management
- Relevant team management skills – mentoring, training, planning, performance management
- Ability to work in a dynamic, fast paced and multi-cultural environment
- Team player, high initiative and quick learner