Our company is growing rapidly and is hiring for a software development senior. If you are looking for an exciting place to work, please take a look at the list of qualifications below.

Responsibilities for software development senior

- Analyze the business requirements and create feature descriptions
- Implement the feature in close cooperation with the R&D architects
- Involved in the initial customer deployment
- Architect, design, and write software for web sites and services
- Provide expertise across full stack
- Provide insight and input into Hawaiian's software products
- Deep interest in solving challenges of high availability and scale
- Develop hive, pig scripts for data transformation
- Develop python, shell scripts for data flow orchestration
- Lead software build and deployment when needed

Qualifications for software development senior

- Proficiency in, at least, one modern programming language such as C++, Java or Objective C
- Experience as a technical lead managing small teams of engineers
- Excellent end-to-end system debugging skills
- Graduate degree (MS/PhD)
- 7+ years of experience in specific technical areas such as USB, audio, framebuffer, filesystems, system performance, wireless devices
- Experience of use of various system design models, queuing, messaging, web-services, batch/real-time, event driven