Our company is growing rapidly and is searching for experienced candidates for the position of software integration. Thank you in advance for taking a look at the list of responsibilities and qualifications. We look forward to reviewing your resume.

Responsibilities for software integration

- Good communication skills are needed both verbally and written, to Interact with peers and customers
- Use IBM Cast Iron for integration purposes
- Help resolving issues in the current interfaces
- Communicate with the customer on a daily basis
- Participate in daily sync-ups with the Project Manager
- Solve problems by crafting software solutions using maintainable and modular code to present during code reviews
- Participate in daily team standup meetings, and give and receive updates on the current backlog and challenges
- Developing test plans, defining test cases, executing and/or automating the tests
- Reproduction, troubleshooting and triaging of S/W defects
- The Integration Analyst works with the business analysts and business stakeholders of the various EDR programs and projects in order to understand the business requirements that drive the implementation of clinical interface technical solutions

Qualifications for software integration

- Knowledge of a combination of software development languages and tools such as Java, Jscript, VBScript, XML and SQL

- Familiarity with popular automotive frameworks required (QNX, QT, Android, Automotive Linux, Genivi)
- Experience and interest in embedded product software development (C, C++, Java,) required within framework of popular automotive infotainment operating systems (Android, Linux, QNX, QT)
- Acts as a
- Support early customer engagement activities such as deliver demos, validation and delivery of pre-launch software