Our growing company is looking for a software senior developer. If you are looking for an exciting place to work, please take a look at the list of qualifications below.

Responsibilities for software senior developer

- Development of HTML / JavaScript based screens – consisting both of common UI elements such as grids and panels custom-developed graphs – consistent with mock-ups and styles provided by a design team
- Development of custom visualization components (primarily graphs) specific to the finance domain using JavaScript
- Ensure tasks / short term goals are met by the team according to the time and budget
- Create robust large-scale production applications
- Develop research prototypes and proof-of-concepts
- Design and develop research-oriented web-based applications
- Write efficient and scalable code
- Develop software tools and infrastructure to support the engineering team
- Interface with the business for the testing and development efforts
- Owns end-to-end automated testing

Qualifications for software senior developer

- 5 years of experience developing client/server or distributed software solutions in a C# .Net development environment
- Entity Framework or any other ORM
- Building application on a PaaS such as Microsoft Azure
- High Volume, Real Time Transactional based XML messaging