

Example of Specialist, Research Job Description

Powered by www.VelvetJobs.com

Our innovative and growing company is hiring for a specialist, research. Please review the list of responsibilities and qualifications. While this is our ideal list, we will consider candidates that do not necessarily have all of the qualifications, but have sufficient experience and talent.

Responsibilities for specialist, research

- Administrative and research duties and training will be conducted as per USAARL guidelines and procedures
- May be required, on written authority of the Laboratory Commander, to fly on military aircraft or ride in military vehicles in the official conduct of duties of the position
- Assist in data collection, data entry and double entry verification
- Maintain adequate supplies and resupply stock when necessary
- Assist with data collection, data entry, and double entry verification
- Train students in behavioral assays
- Design, implement and manage all phases of field data collection procedures using a variety of data collection methods (e.g., interviews, surveys, focus groups)
- Design and implement data management procedures, including data inventory, cleaning, validation, entry, and basic analytics
- Assists with the development of Institutional Review Board (IRB) protocols and continuing review reports
- Perform project management functions by developing and monitoring timelines to assure timely completion of project deliverables

Qualifications for specialist, research

- Knowledge of the capabilities and limitations of various software packages,

- Must be able to perform duties and responsibilities independently based on broad guidance, taskers, objectives, and/or SOPs provided by the Government through the Injury Research Facilitator, Injury Biomechanics Chief, and PIs use individual initiative to support research staff
- Experience in research or any appropriate combination of research and community related work
- Experience in research protocols for multinational companies
- Experience in crop protection for the identification of plagues, among others that may present in different research scenarios in fields
- On rare occasions