

Example of Specialist, Research Job Description

Powered by www.VelvetJobs.com

Our company is growing rapidly and is looking to fill the role of specialist, research. Thank you in advance for taking a look at the list of responsibilities and qualifications. We look forward to reviewing your resume.

Responsibilities for specialist, research

- Conduct various complex tests, experiments and/or procedures following protocols of assigned research projects
- Apply and interpret theoretical knowledge necessary to conduct research in scientific disciplines
- Identify potential problems, recommend and implement solutions, and collaborate in the development of new techniques
- Monitor and collect data as required by research protocols
- Maintain appropriate documentation of research results, as required by research protocols
- Search literature demonstrating an understanding of scientific, experimental and/or research theory to assist in the design of methods, procedures, and techniques
- May configure, operate and/or maintain specialized equipment
- May use software applications to assemble, manipulate, format and/or perform statistical analysis of data
- May train others in laboratory techniques and the use of laboratory equipment
- May assist in writing grants, progress reports, and manuscripts

Qualifications for specialist, research

- Evidence of a Bachelors degree and 2 years of experience working on addiction related research projects including alcohol self-administration work

- Previous human subjects' research experience
- Excellent written and verbal communications strong interpersonal skills and organizational skills
- Experience working with children with autism or other developmental disabilities and their parents
- Experience administering and scoring the Mullen Scales of Early Learning and Vineland Adaptive