

Example of Speech Pathologist Job Description

Powered by www.VelvetJobs.com

Our company is searching for experienced candidates for the position of speech pathologist. If you are looking for an exciting place to work, please take a look at the list of qualifications below.

Responsibilities for speech pathologist

- Demonstrates proficiency in delivering care to assigned age-specific patient population
- Complete evaluations and treatments of assigned patients with speech, language, voice and swallowing disorders in accordance to established standards of care and practice including selecting assessment tools, tests and measures, goal setting
- Participates in education in-services, presentations, etc as needed
- Monitors patient needs
- May supervise student externs
- Assesses, evaluates, and documents patient response to treatment, measuring progress for revision of plan of care or discharge as appropriate
- Develops and implements plans of treatment with long and short term goals
- Functions as a member of an interdisciplinary team serving populations from birth to geriatrics
- Adheres to department policies and procedures in documentation standards for evaluations, daily progress notes, discharge summaries, and screenings
- Member of an interdisciplinary team serving populations from birth to geriatrics

Qualifications for speech pathologist

- Experience working with adults with voice disorders and other speech and language disorders preferred, but not required

- Must be physically able to work with people of all ages and educational backgrounds
- Must have good communication skills and the ability to speak, read and write fluently in English
- Must be self-directed and use appropriate clinical judgment