Our innovative and growing company is hiring for a staff engineer applications engineer. Please review the list of responsibilities and qualifications. While this is our ideal list, we will consider candidates that do not necessarily have all of the qualifications, but have sufficient experience and talent.

Responsibilities for staff engineer applications engineer

- Analyze client business processes and needs, validate those requirements and transform them into functional and design specifications, influence change where necessary
- Develop sound professional relationships with key engineers, architects and decision-makers within the customer organization
- Design solutions based upon our business requirements
- Follow best practices and governance guidelines through design and code review practices
- Partner with other technology leads both in our organization and throughout Schwab to deliver our business solutions
- Foster our offshore partnership while driving for continual improvement of our agile-based development process
- Understand Schwab business processes that our application supports by participating in ghosting sessions
- Participate in product definition working with marketing, design engineering, and customers
- Work closely with customers to develop system based solutions using our radiation hardened product portfolio
- Work with the design engineers to prototype/develop/support a bench test/evaluation platform for mixed signal products

- Highly motivated, passionate individual, comfortable delivering to a deadline in a fast paced environment
- Understands importance of customers and strives to provide timely support
- Have a good understanding of fundamental analog circuits and basics of digital circuits
- Must perform IC and system level validation
- Familiarity with customers and design in process
- Ability to interface with customers and solve customer problems