

Example of Storage Specialist Job Description

Powered by www.VelvetJobs.com

Our growing company is hiring for a storage specialist. If you are looking for an exciting place to work, please take a look at the list of qualifications below.

Responsibilities for storage specialist

- Participate in the development of key storage reference architecture
- Operational responsibilities include 24x7x365 support, capacity planning, monitoring, patching, system installation and problem resolution across storage, backup and recovery technologies
- Serve as a primary contact for storage management issues
- Respond to alarms and events for attached 24 x7 storage systems as needed
- Provide engineering and administration support for all storage subsystems deployed across the enterprise including backup systems
- Demonstrate knowledge and experience in designing, implementing and administering NetApp storage technologies
- Manage monitoring, alerting, capacity planning, provisioning and reporting for all storage subsystems
- Work on upgrades and migrations of storage code and firmware on a periodic basis
- Lead and participate in new technology evaluations, product upgrades, and hardware refreshes
- Work with Change, Incident, and Problem Management

Qualifications for storage specialist

- Storage Consolidation and Virtualization
- Storage Related application Performance
- Lead in the planning and implementation of SAN storage solutions
- Investigate, identify, document and implement technical standards as

- Knowledge of NAS hardware & management tools (NetApp, N-Series)