

Example of Store Engineer Job Description

Powered by www.VelvetJobs.com

Our company is looking to fill the role of store engineer. If you are looking for an exciting place to work, please take a look at the list of qualifications below.

Responsibilities for store engineer

- Perform manager assigned tasks that arise during the day-to-day operations of the Store Construction Department
- Bench test new technology for process and price improvements to existing systems
- Provide production support for Micros POS systems
- Guide teams through ERP implementations with a specific focus on cloud based ERP platforms
- Foster the team's curiosity in developing practices to improve productivity, including test driven development, paired programming, continuous flow, supporting practices
- With focus on POS, WiFi, Store specific devices
- Maintains and documents accurate information/data regarding Store specific issues within the tracking system, the document repository
- Expert knowledge in a single technical discipline
- Provide third-level problem resolution for local and wide area (LAN/WAN) network issues globally
- Provide recommendations and solutions to improve the operating environment

Qualifications for store engineer

- Familiarity with network troubleshooting tools and procedures, including ping/traceroute, debugging and system logs, packet capture and analysis, performance monitoring, and fault isolation

- Experience with retail store commerce, including Point of Sale (POS) and other related store-based applications
- Experience with store wireless networking and/or traffic counters a plus
- Experience using tools such as WireShark, Ethereal, NetMon and performance measurement tools such as NetBench, IoMeter, SpecSFS
- Participate in cross-functional project teams, providing technical expertise to the project and ensuring project deployment success