Our company is growing rapidly and is looking for a store engineer. Thank you in advance for taking a look at the list of responsibilities and qualifications. We look forward to reviewing your resume.

Responsibilities for store engineer

- Learn through introduction and testing of new ideas, build intellectual properties that help guide future innovation initiatives
- Perform engineering and implementation functions for retail store technologies
- Applies knowledge of internet protocols, network topologies and operating systems when designing or implementing solutions
- Collaborate with and influence Architecture and Development teams to help teams adopt and adapt standards
- Drive new security frameworks to meet the growing footprint of the retail scope
- Develop team members by providing coaching, code review, and process guidance
- Use of AirWatch and other tools to support, monitor, configure, implement, and document current mobile/tablet hardware and configurations
- Validate and test updates, patches and upgrades against like-production devices to ensure deployment success
- Troubleshoot and manage calls/tickets from the Support Desk
- Help provide technical direction to the Company in the store enviroment

Qualifications for store engineer

- Passion and proven track record of building great dynamic and data-driven user experiences on the web

- Experience building and managing multi-tier, performant, fault-tolerant, high scale web services and websites
- Project experience with the DevOps model including methodologies of Continuous Delivery, Telemetry/Analytics, Flighting/Experimentation, Test Driven Development, and Testing in Production
- Great technical leadership skills, with ability to drive and complete projects across teams
- Programming skills in C# or Java (or equivalent OO language)