

Example of Strategy Development Job Description

Powered by www.VelvetJobs.com

Our innovative and growing company is looking to fill the role of strategy development. If you are looking for an exciting place to work, please take a look at the list of qualifications below.

Responsibilities for strategy development

- Bachelor's degree or higher in finance, accounting, economics, engineering or business related
- Leads innovation pipeline management and portfolio prioritization processes in alignment with strategic growth opportunities
- Lead the development and implementation of best practice processes, analytical frameworks, and tools
- Oversee the development of strategic documents for review and discussion with senior management
- Supporting the development of the annual Strategy Check presentation in support of yearly planning cycles
- Providing thought leadership on key market shifts and trends for impact and opportunity, recommendations on dealing with competition
- Developing frameworks and analytical models to provide key insights and identify improvement opportunities related to reliability, productivity, security and performance
- Articulating and enhancing intra-organization and enterprise-wide processes and workflows
- Leading project management of selected strategic initiatives and assessments, capturing status updates and projected/realized benefits
- Presenting recommendations on strategic initiatives with EVP visibility

Qualifications for strategy development

- Ability to independently assess data and create financial models and presentations
- Knowledge of a variety of deal structuring options and their applicability
- Ability to work in a highly independent, unstructured, but results-oriented environment
- Demonstrated knowledge of video monetization components is essential
- Post-merger integration related experience with at least two years in a role with significant responsibility and demonstrated ability to assess and execute post-merger integration initiatives is required