

Example of Technician, Clinical Job Description

Powered by www.VelvetJobs.com

Our growing company is looking to fill the role of technician, clinical. Please review the list of responsibilities and qualifications. While this is our ideal list, we will consider candidates that do not necessarily have all of the qualifications, but have sufficient experience and talent.

Responsibilities for technician, clinical

- Discards specimens when testing is complete or lifespan is reached
- Performs CLIA Waived and Moderate complexity specimen testing and reports results of testing once trained and competency is signed as satisfactory
- Contacts specimen collector for information, as needed and appropriate within HIPPA
- Maintain clean orderly, well stocked work environment
- Handle and process specimens and paperwork as instructed in written instruction in conjunction with verbal instruction
- Conducts chemical analysis of body fluids, including blood, urine, and spinal fluid, to determine presence of normal and abnormal components
- Analyzes laboratory findings to check the accuracy of the results
- Enters data from analysis of medical tests and clinical results into computer for storage
- Operates, calibrates and maintains equipment used in quantitative and qualitative analysis, such as spectrophotometers, calorimeters, flame photometers, and computer-controlled analyzers
- Establishes and monitors quality assurance programs and activities to ensure the accuracy of laboratory results

Qualifications for technician, clinical

- Provides technical information about test results to physicians, family members and researchers
- Supervises, trains, and directs lab assistants, medical and clinical laboratory technicians and technologists and other medical laboratory workers engaged in laboratory testing
- Studies blood samples to determine the number of cells, their morphology, using microscopic techniques
- Analyzes samples of biological material for chemical content or reaction
- Assists the surgical recovery staff with ancillary patient care duties