Our company is hiring for an UI developer. If you are looking for an exciting place to work, please take a look at the list of qualifications below.

Responsibilities for UI developer

- Experience in performance tuning the web application
- Experience in development of complex multi-layer applications
- Experience in working with high-available mission critical large scale web application in both Front end and back end
- Experience in profiling web application
- Experience in development of multi-threaded application in interfacing with other systems
- Experience in XML and XSLT transformation
- Experience with Rational IDE tools like RSA and RAD
- Designs and creates components that interface with secure REST APIs (level 2/3)
- Builds single-page applications for the browsing of medical & scientific information
- Builds specialized data visualization components to provide further insights into data, in particular create custom visualization components tailored for the type of data

Qualifications for UI developer

- Working knowledge of both Windows and Linux operating systems a plus
- Apache/Tomcat/Jetty/WebLogic experience
- Eclipse or other development user interface
- 5+ years professional C# experience developing windows applications
- 2-3 years professional experience using WPF