Our innovative and growing company is looking for an user interface developer. We appreciate you taking the time to review the list of qualifications and to apply for the position. If you don't fill all of the qualifications, you may still be considered depending on your level of experience.

Responsibilities for user interface developer

- Work with User Experience teams and business clients ensure a delightful user experience
- Synthesize real user feedback into prototypes and solutions
- Work closely with developers to ensure intended experiences are carried through
- Turning product requirements into concrete design specifications
- Collaborate and communicate effectively with the UI and architecture teams management on status of current projects
- Become a subject matter expert with the ability to understand the latest architecture, technology, solution, market trends, competitive offerings
- Work closely with design in developing and realizing a vision for cognitive applications
- Work with technologies such as angular, node.js, building web-based user interfaces
- Build prototypes to test (internally and through user research) and refine solutions while working with the design team
- Sharing expertise with team members

Qualifications for user interface developer

- Understanding of Equities and/or Equity Derivatives a plus
- 3-5 years of experience developing multithreaded WPF/WinForms desktop

- Very good communication skills a must
- Relevant experience developing multithreaded desktop applications in C# using .NET, with a strong knowledge of .NET 4.0 (or higher)
- Experienced in WPF, MVVM and Entity Frakework