

Example of VP, Product Development Job Description

Powered by www.VelvetJobs.com

Our growing company is looking to fill the role of VP, product development. If you are looking for an exciting place to work, please take a look at the list of qualifications below.

Responsibilities for VP, product development

- Works directly with the vendor on SOW, escalation of issues, prioritization
- Plans and formulates aspects of the department budget
- Mentor and coach Merchandising staff members as needed
- Lead the coordination of Seasonal Line planning process
- Work with Merchandising staff to meet timelines and assure that all Merchandising related tasks are achieved in a timely manner
- Work toward positive team environment within the Merchandising staff
- Participate in Strategic, Sales, Customer, Investor and other meetings as needed
- Job involves a high degree of complexity in dealing with new and sometimes unique work situation
- Operates from some established procedures, but develops policies and procedures to meet the needs of each project
- Work is reviewed on a project or assignment basis over extended periods of time

Qualifications for VP, product development

- Ability to quickly analyze current business models / practices and develop innovate solutions
- High attention to detail and solid analytical skills, especially with Excel, PowerPoint and Word documents Entrepreneurial mindset with the ability to think on their feet and be able to apply critical thinking logical/structured

- 7 - 10 years of experience in strategic planning, operating model development, medium to large-scale program/project management, and data analysis and/or consulting
- Lead the BA team and scope out product enhancements
- Develop proposed product solutions
- Develop detailed requirements that are easily understood by key stakeholders across Product, Technology, Operations and Client Services