

Example of VP, Product Development Job Description

Powered by www.VelvetJobs.com

Our innovative and growing company is looking to fill the role of VP, product development. Thank you in advance for taking a look at the list of responsibilities and qualifications. We look forward to reviewing your resume.

Responsibilities for VP, product development

- Partner with other members of the LAI product team and other cross-functional teams to deliver new passive products to market and enhance the existing local ETF range
- Senior Leader who has a proven track record of launching successful products
- Develop and maintain the client facing reporting tool Views Portfolio Reporting within JPM Morgan Markets suite for the Global Custody product delivering 'best- in-class' robust client reporting
- Align product strategy to overall roadmaps ensuring strategic goals are executed on
- Manage the product development lifecycle through approval and prioritization, request analysis, requirements development, development oversight, product testing and release management
- Partner with IS constituents on product and project planning
- Develop and support communication materials and documentation for internal and external stakeholders
- Provide subject matter expertise for clients and constituents across the organization
- Support product assessment by understanding client usage/requests
- Resolution of client inquiries and communications to key stakeholders (clients and internal constituents)

Qualifications for VP, product development

- Job may require hours that exceed 8 hours per day and/or 40 hours per week, especially when working on rush/special projects
- Some pressure may exist when facing deadlines
- May require some international and domestic travel
- Physical capability to sit for extended periods of time, bend, stoop, kneel, walk or stand for extended periods of time, work with computer hardware and software including a keyboard
- Implement scalable, compliant & reliable core processing solutions driving standard products & processes for Investor and Issuer Services and connecting external infrastructural changes