

Example of Web Application Engineer Job Description

Powered by www.VelvetJobs.com

Our innovative and growing company is looking for a web application engineer. To join our growing team, please review the list of responsibilities and qualifications.

Responsibilities for web application engineer

- Shows competency in value based decision making and Agile principles across teams
- Participate in continued learning of best practices involving agile methodologies, development methodologies, and technologies
- Produce High Quality Implementations – Utilize industry best practices for designing and building implementations that are reliable, testable, and extensible
- Provide administrative support for non-Consolidated program specific hosting platforms such as Apache, Tomcat, IAS
- Assist in the Development and implementation of documentation Architecture Diagrams, RunBooks for the current web application environments to provide Disaster Recovery in the event of server or application failures
- Work with Program project leads to insure compatibility and security constraints are taken into consideration throughout the software development lifecycle
- Attend project plan meetings to advise on application architecture and web standards practices for current and future application development/ hosting
- Testing solutions according to team quality standards
- Being proactive, willing to learn and assuming responsibilities
- Engineer and architect solutions using WAF or other security products

Qualifications for web application engineer

- Experience in modern web application development and frameworks, ES6, React, Redux, Sass
- Developing web products
- Quality/Testing of web products/solutions
- Writing and interacting with Web Services
- JSON and XML message design, generation, and consumption/processing
- HTTP communications