

Example of Web Applications Job Description

Powered by www.VelvetJobs.com

Our company is looking to fill the role of web applications. Please review the list of responsibilities and qualifications. While this is our ideal list, we will consider candidates that do not necessarily have all of the qualifications, but have sufficient experience and talent.

Responsibilities for web applications

- Serves as a mentor, subject-matter expert, and a technical project lead who coordinates project-based activities of other personnel
- Provide recommendations for and leads continuous improvement in both application functionality and internal software development processes
- Functional expertise of the systems supported and the development of a framework for system implementation and maintenance
- Design and develop DocuSign Web App
- Develop high-quality, ship ready code
- Work with Project Management and other developers to understand design requirements and provide estimates for development
- Get involved in the application design, not just code to a specification
- Work as part of a passionate, agile development team to deliver engaging web user experiences
- Collaborate with our platform engineering teams to implement new features and to bring existing platform features into web platform
- Work cooperatively with product management and design to create features that satisfy user needs with simplicity, consistency, and robustness

Qualifications for web applications

- Experience with HTML, JSP, Java Servlets, ASP
- Understanding of web standards (XHTML, CSS)

- Proficiency in writing server-side application logic, preferably in Scala or another JVM-based environment
- Skilled in delivering quality products using latest web technologies
- Experience using popular JS utility libraries, such as JQuery, underscore.js, Backbone, Angular, React