Our company is growing rapidly and is looking for a web applications. Thank you in advance for taking a look at the list of responsibilities and qualifications. We look forward to reviewing your resume.

Responsibilities for web applications

- Provide second-level application support for enterprise applications, and fill-in first-level support when necessary
- Interact with all levels of employees, participate in project design meetings to help visualize and understand their IT-related problems, and provide competent solutions
- Participate in project planning meetings and provide necessary details to facilitate the creation of accurate and effective project plans
- Regularly work with other IT experts, consultants, programmers, , both internal and external to the company, as necessary
- Perform new development modifications and on-going support for websites and web-based enterprise applications, both packaged and in-house developed
- Design and/or develop, and assist in the design or development of, interfaces between the systems or programs being developed and other systems with which it will communicate
- Exhibit awareness and comply with application architecture/technical architecture boundary standards, security standards, and any other established IT standards and/or policies
- Effectively analyze and work within a collaborative team environment to better define, present, and/or develop reliable solutions
- Collaborate with team members to complete work and achieve departmental objectives
- Encourage participation and listening

- Develop new, complex feature sets that enhance the product
- Drive technology strategy around tooling, development approach, and team development
- Maintain and manage products across the entire stack
- Build abstraction libraries that drive future development productivityAnalyze and improve performance
- BA/BS degree in Computer Science or similar degree is necessary
- Follow documented development standards for all coding