Example of Web Applications Job Description

Powered by www.VelvetJobs.com

Our company is growing rapidly and is searching for experienced candidates for the position of web applications. If you are looking for an exciting place to work, please take a look at the list of qualifications below.

Responsibilities for web applications

- Designs, develops, configures, tests and documents complex standard and custom batch and dialog application software (or directs these activities when necessary), that integrates, extends or enhances internet/intranet functionality
- Pro-actively reviews, recommends and implements web security and authorization procedures and techniques, other data security, integrity, backup and recovery procedures for the protection of business systems
- Stays current on all emerging web technology and other information technology relevant to assigned systems
- Responds on a 7/24 on-call basis to application and Customer problems
- Build UIs with anticipation of automated testing leveraging tools like Selenium
- Learn and apply new technologies and best practice
- Document technical requirements and specifications
- Write high quality source code to complete applications within deadlines
- Support, monitor and fix bugs for both Production and Non-Production environments
- A variety of functions associated with maximizing system performance and reducing unschedule maintenance

Qualifications for web applications

- 5+ years' experience with C# and ASP.NET MVC or similar framework

- Experience with React to PHP is a plus, but not required
- With Docker is a plus
- Experience designing, supporting, and implementing back-end web services is a plus
- Experience building scalable, asynchronous, decoupled, and highly fault tolerant systems is a plus