

Example of Web Development Engineer Job Description

Powered by www.VelvetJobs.com

Our company is growing rapidly and is hiring for a web development engineer. If you are looking for an exciting place to work, please take a look at the list of qualifications below.

Responsibilities for web development engineer

- You will help set appropriate project schedules and handle ongoing changes
- You will raise the bar for the overall organization by participating in cross-organization discussions, posting internal blog posts, and evangelizing standard methodologies to the TLS and EWE employee base
- Provide Tier 2 support for services running in lab and production environments
- Exercise independent judgment and discretion
- Quickly create and iterate prototypes
- Collaborate with business owners, designers and software development engineers to build scalable, high quality UI and tools
- Develop C++ code on the mySketchUp product
- Will work with other team members and PM, TPM, and UX groups to investigate design approaches, prototype new technology, and evaluate technical feasibility
- Will develop scalable components, code, and approaches to ensure our websites are robust, maintainable, and easily added to
- Primary responsibilities include designing and developing front-end websites and web-application software

Qualifications for web development engineer

- Able to work well in a team environment independently, must be assertive

- 3+ Years experience developing software in a commercial environment including 1+ year developing user interfaces
- Must have demonstrated experience writing Java based web applications
- At least 2 years of Salesforce.com development experience
- At least 2 years of experience performing complete full lifecycle Salesforce.com implementations