

Example of Wireline Operator Job Description

Powered by www.VelvetJobs.com

Our company is hiring for a wireline operator. If you are looking for an exciting place to work, please take a look at the list of qualifications below.

Responsibilities for wireline operator

- Can maintain the unit and perform all pre-job duties, well-site operations and post-job duties, training of junior operators
- Assist in the preparation of the wireline unit and calibration of equipment
- The Wireline operators has a primary responsibility to ensure that the Logging Unit is ready to run with all mechanical, electrical, hydraulic and pneumatic systems fully functional at all times
- Communicates safety issues to each crewmember and engineer/specialist is aware of their responsibilities and obligations regarding safety at the worksite
- Actively participates in the on the job safety observation processes
- Actively mentoring of apprentices and junior operators
- Maintains an accurate inventory of all rig equipment supplies needed at the worksite and in doghouses to support planned operations
- The candidate maintains Winching/wrap diagrams, Well diagrams, cable speed, Winching weight at stations, Winching tension
- Maintain Wireline cables Cable records & Drum bearings maintenance on the job and has the ability to do re-head on all types of cables to the cable head needed to run the job
- Works with rig hands on manual handling and placement of equipment on the well site locations

Qualifications for wireline operator

- Ability to work offshore in harsh climatic conditions

- Must have a clean driving record with the ability and willingness to obtain a Class A CDL with Hazmat through company paid training
- Typical hours are M-F / 8-5 (24/7 on call) and on-call one weekend per month, but must have the ability to work overtime with flexibility at well sites for extended periods of time (Lodging and Per-Diem provided)
- Must have the ability to pass a Federal background check
- Ability to utilize computers for communication, reporting and other work-related purposes