

Example of Wound Care Nurse Job Description

Powered by www.VelvetJobs.com

Our growing company is looking to fill the role of wound care nurse. To join our growing team, please review the list of responsibilities and qualifications.

Responsibilities for wound care nurse

- Demonstrates knowledge and understanding of common wound etiologies and wound standard of care
- Maintains responsibility for Wound Healing Institute on 24/7 basis, unless otherwise approved
- Works with the Wound Care Institute Director to facilitate and maintain lines of communication with the various ancillary departments utilized by the department
- Directs, and evaluates nursing care provided to patients in the Wound Care Healing Institute
- Serve as mentor and advisor to facilitate professional growth for our Wound Healing Institute employees
- Works under the direction of the Wound Institute Director and Medical Director to oversee, manage, train, and assist nurses and other staff within the department
- Provides the Wound Healing Institute Director with required reports of the departmental status as directed
- Provides direct care for patients in an ambulatory setting through comprehensive assessments, and assessment of diagnostic data and wound evaluations
- Performs ordered treatments including but not limited to vital signs, blood sugars, vascular assessments and ABIs, wound assessments, phlebotomy, medication administration, and specimen collection and handling
- Prepares and implements a plan of care for the wound patient collaborating with the physician and other health team members

-
- The ability to implement and evaluate the effectiveness of interventions in the plan of care and to recognize the need to reassess- required
 - Valid cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR) card
 - CA RN license and BLS required
 - Keen attention to detail and effective organizational skills
 - Autonomous thinker who also enjoys working in a team setting
 - Comfortable working in a prepper, case manager, wrapper staffing model