

Example of Wound Care Job Description

Powered by www.VelvetJobs.com

Our growing company is looking for a wound care. If you are looking for an exciting place to work, please take a look at the list of qualifications below.

Responsibilities for wound care

- Provide in-service education and orientation classes
- Work with the Clinical Educator on the development of education programs specific to the wound/ostomy/continence patient
- Participate in multi-disciplinary patient centered case conferences as appropriate
- Monitor data and statistical reports as requested
- Participate in Quality Improvement
- Treatment modalities administration utilizing the newest advancements in technologies including Hyperbaric Oxygen Chamber designed to ensure the safest delivery of therapies to our patients
- Ongoing documentation of each individual patient's assessments, plan-of-care, interventions and evaluation of rendered care
- Ability to perform wound assessment, reassessment, and management for all patients and per policy
- Knowledge of the anatomy, physiology, and disorders of the dermal systems, gastrointestinal, and genitourinary
- Utilizes principles of current wound management theory when providing care to patients with acute and chronic wounds

Qualifications for wound care

- Maintain all safety and compliance with the hyperbaric chamber
- Data entry in to the wound information data system and collate reports for leadership

- Perform quality controls daily and maintain department equipment such as glucometers, air and oxygen supplies
- Perform transcutaneous oxygen monitoring testing as ordered and per policy
- Perform dressing changes and/or wound care within scope of practice, as ordered and participate in clinic as necessary